

SAINT-GEORGE

The Saint-George bed is a tribute to the exceptionally beautiful natural environment that surrounds the headquarters of Elite, located in the heart of the vineyards between Lake Geneva and the Jura Mountains.

«Less global is more unique»

The local natural heritage is at the core of Saint-George concept. The notion of luxury is defined by the uniqueness of the place combined with the use of local natural noble materials.

«Less outsourced materials and skills means more sustainability»

The minimalist structure, favours the use of local wood from the forests of the Jura vaudois located a few kilometres away and rich in the finest spruce, ash and beech trees. A wooden stain based on linseed oil with natural pigments is proposed. The wooden grain remains visible.

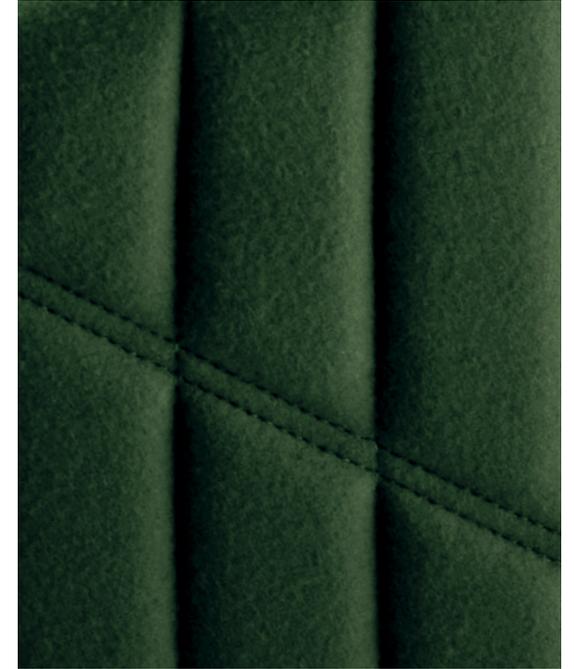

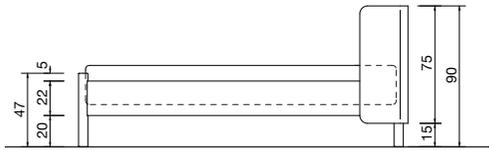

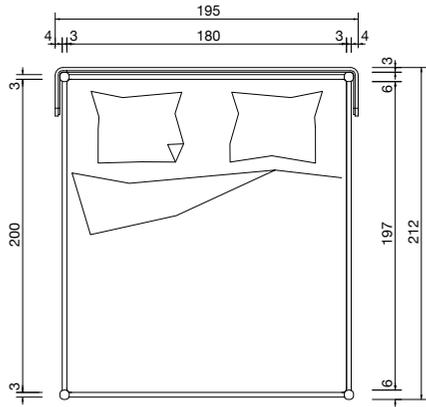

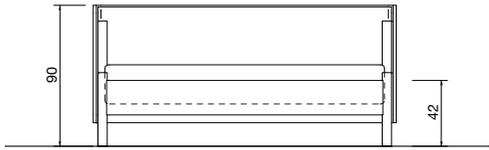

«Less artifice is more authentic»

Saint-George proposes a return to the simple archetypal bed of the past treated as a basic piece of furniture. Each side is carefully designed and can therefore live as well leaning against a wall as in the middle of the space. With its alcove shape, the headboard creates an intimate space that allows you to «fall asleep in the forest» thanks to a textile upholstery whose colour and pattern are inspired by the Jura coniferous forest. One can imagine a variation of colours and patterns with the idea of «falling asleep in the vineyards» or «on the shores of Lake Geneva».

«Less space means more versatility»

Without compromising on comfort and finishes, the Saint-George bed has a footprint reduced as much as possible to accommodate ever smaller interior spaces.
